

Fisher Phillips Partner Gives Exclusive Interview with The Recorder on Launch of Cryptocurrency and Blockchain Taskforce

News

7.30.21

In an interview with The Recorder, Phillip Bauknight discusses the practical applications of cryptocurrency and blockchain technology and highlights why the firm launched its new, innovative taskforce. “From our perspective, cryptocurrency and blockchain technologies are radically altering the way many companies do business,” Phillip says. “While these revolutionary and disruptive technologies are being adopted at a rapid pace, a key area where there hasn’t been a lot of attention, and there are still many use-cases, is the employment and labor workplace sector.” In the exclusive Q&A, Phillip highlights three key areas of focus: Smart contracts, crypto payments, and ransomware.

To read the article visit The Recorder (subscription required).

The article was also published in the August 16th print edition of the New Jersey Law Journal (see page 5).

Please reach out to our Media team for any news inquiries.

Related People

Phillip C. Bauknight

Partner
908.516.1059
Email

Related Offices

New Jersey