

Florida Chamber Safety Council is Unifying Florida's Job Creators in Making Florida The Safest State In America

Event

3.14.22

3:00 PM — 4:00 PM EST

Join Charles Caulkins for a candid live interview with Katie Yeutter, President, Florida Chamber Safety Council as they discuss the vision and strategy of how the Florida Chamber Safety Council is creating national standards for workplace safety, implementing first-in-the-nation programs to prevent injuries, reduce operational costs, and improve production, performance, and corporate safety culture.

“Business leaders in Florida know that their employees are their most valuable asset, and they want to keep them safe,” said Mark Wilson, the president and CEO of the Florida Chamber. “Job creators can do more by pooling their resources and learning from each other. The Florida Chamber Safety Council will unify businesses around what matters most – our people – to make Florida the safest, healthiest and most sustainable state in America.”

See how the Florida Chamber Safety Council Statewide Leadership Advisory Board is leading the way for Florida businesses to brace, create and follow the culture for safety on the job as top priority.
