

What PEOS Should Know: Awaiting Supreme Court Decisions

Publication

7.12.22

In a bylined article published in PEO Insider, the publication of NAPEO, John Polson and Sheldon Blumling break down the everchanging landscape for PEOs who need to watch as the Supreme Court decides on numerous workplace-related issues. Those issues include highly compensated workers, California Arbitration agreements, 401(k) excessive fee cases, and COVID vaccine or test mandates.

They explain that PEOs should be aware that the Supreme Court is still deciding on important issues that will have a direct impact on their employee agreements this year. PEOs will have to be vigilant of these impending decisions to ensure their policies are effective for both employers and employees.
