

Fisher Phillips Welcomes Madison Keller in Boston

News

12.30.22

Fisher Phillips, one of the country's preeminent labor and employment law firms representing employers, is pleased to announce that Madison Keller has joined the firm as an associate in the Boston office.

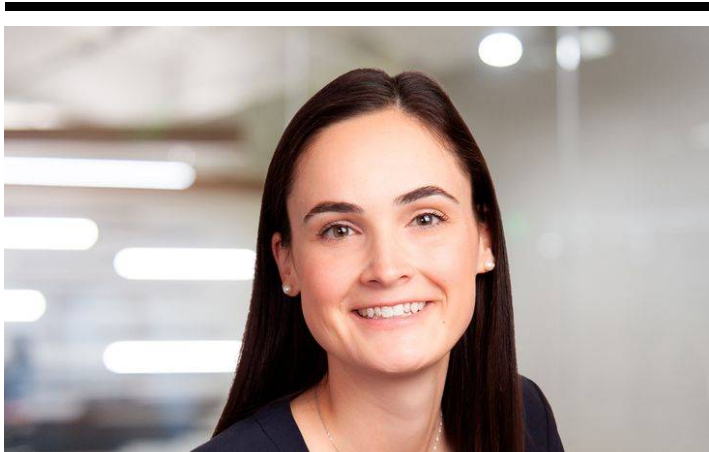

Before joining Fisher Phillips, Madison focused on complex labor and employment and business litigation matters, contract disputes, and internal investigations as an associate in the Boston office of a full-service international law firm. At Fisher Phillips, she will continue to represent employers in workplace law disputes and will also advise clients on compliance with a variety of other federal and state employment laws.

Madison earned her J.D., cum laude, from Boston University School of Law, where she served as note editor of the Public Interest Law Journal. During law school, she gained experience representing clients in hearings and mediations as part of the school's Civil Litigation & Justice Program. Madison also represented debtors in negotiations and small claims trials as a student attorney in the Boston University School of Law Consumer Debt Practicum. Before law school, she graduated with a B.A., magna cum laude, from the College of the Holy Cross.
