

Chelsea Viola

Associate

Los Angeles

t: 213.403.9626

f: 213.330.4501

Email

Service Focus

- Counseling and Advice
- Litigation and Trials

Overview

Chelsea Viola is an associate in the firm's Los Angeles Office. Her practice includes advising and defending employers in all areas of labor and employment law.

Chelsea graduated from Loyola Law School, where she served as Chief Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Editor for the Loyola Law Review. While in law school, Chelsea gained valuable experience in employment law through her externship with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), where she assisted in drafting decisions of an administrative judge. Additionally, Chelsea externed with the Office of the Attorney General of California in the Employment & Administrative Mandate Section, where she gained hands-on experience in employment defense cases involving state agencies.

She has also developed client-facing skills and experience through Loyola Law School's Rights In Systems Enforced (RISE) Clinic, where she represented clients who were survivors of human trafficking in both civil and criminal matters.

Credentials

Education

- J.D., 2024, Loyola Law School, Los Angeles
- B.A., 2019, University of California, Los Angeles

Bar Admissions

- California

Recognitions

- 2023 Asian Pacific American Women Lawyers Alliance Rising Leader Award

Affiliations

Professional Activities

- Member, Philippine American Bar Association
- Member, Asian Pacific American Women Lawyers Alliance

Insights

INSIGHTS

11/13/24

California Regulators Take Aim at Resume Screening and Other Automated Tech: 4 Steps for Businesses After Latest Privacy Agency Meeting

Darcey M. Groden, Chelsea Viola

Read more →

INSIGHTS

10/03/24

Netherlands Imposes Record-Breaking Data Privacy Fine on Uber: 4 Key Steps Companies Can Take to Ensure Compliance

Nazanin Afshar, Chelsea Viola

Read more →