

Immigration Attorney Discusses Longtime Resident and Green Card Holder's Detention

News
3.26.25

In an on-camera interview with KIRO, Eryne Walvekar discusses the situation surrounding the ICE detention of a green card holder who has lived in the United States for over fifty years. She was detained after returning to Seattle-Tacoma International Airport after a trip home to the Philippines, and Eryne explains how this situation is an example of why she has been advising clients to be cautious about international travel if they have any specific issues in the past, like criminal convictions and/or prior immigration violations.
