As the laws around marijuana in the workplace continue to rapidly change, join Fisher Phillips, USI and Jersey Staffing for an informative and practical discussion on this topic. As an employer, you'll hear about this issue from the perspective of current laws, impact on hiring, firing and discipline as well as how your benefits programs may be affected by both medical and recreational marijuana laws. Staying up-to-date on this area of employment law is critical for any New Jersey employer since issues related to drug use can impact your risk management and staffing strategies.

Registration is complimentary, but seats are limited.

For questions or to RSVP contact Clare Block at cblock@fisherphillips.com to reserve your space.
